16,8; lives with parents, sister and brother; Ma is a [CARING ROLE], Pa a [MAINTENANCE INDUSTRY]. She works 9 hours sales asst.; ethnic - Carib/ESW; religion - RC; taking 7 GCSE, including maths, sociology, physics; heterosexual but not sexually active.

On qr re contraceptives, knew a number but included 'oral cream' and intra-urine device'. Orality is obviously some kind of obsession for her (see below).

Dark, wearing very red lipstick, quite good looking but doubts her own looks. She is influenced by parents in sexual relationships and other things considerably, but claims not to be by religion, especially re contraception and dictates re sex outside of marriage. Wants to do something to do with law re further study and work. Did work experience at [POLICE FORCE] and fancied the police for a while, but changed her mind.

She is worried about AIDS, is influenced by the ads and publicity, made her think, but she is not very well informed. Just OK on the basics, sex, needle transmission. Thought HIV/AIDS the same thing. Sex does equal penetration for her, tho we considered masturbation and oral sex a bit. I felt I ducked out of discussing oral sex when it first came up, so went back to it at the end, she wanted to know why people did it, what they did, and how it fitted into sex so to speak. It came up because she had put on the qr that she knew a bit about oral sex but not enough.

Was a bit worried that she puts boys off by being very cool, cold even, but also very concerned that she has to concentrate on her education right now. Some of her friends are sexually active. Has a special relationship with her aunt who is 20, very close. She goes out with her and discusses relationships (her aunt is in a sexual relationship). Gets some of her information from aunt.

Feels that she would ask for a man to use a condom, would not want the guy if he did not accept that. But also feels that men need, want, get sex more than women and if he wanted sex with her that much he would use a condom to get what he wanted. So plans to or thinks she can use male desire or sex drive to get her own wishes re protection.

On reading the questionnaire I had asked myself about sexual orientation, but she is hetero as far as she presents, and the special girlfriend who was a bit older is her aunt.

Interested in reinterview and diary.
