

LSFS33 8.2.90At her flat in [EAST LONDON]

Aged 19, Lives with boyfriend on 16th floor of a bleak tower block on an estate in [EAST LONDON]. She is a student at [POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY], taking a history degree. These are Poly flats and there are others in the same block, so there are friends around there. Her boyfriend is not meant to live there, it's unofficial, he's not a Poly student, but her other woman friend moved out and he moved in. Her sister (who arrived while I was interviewing her) stays there for half the week. They come from Southend, LSFS33 and her boyfriend hope to stay there for another year and a half until she has finished her course, and then they'll maybe get married and move somewhere nicer.

She has straight dark hair, a little bit of it tied up in a ponytail (more like a poodle really) right at the front on top of her head. Tight stretchy black mini-dress with white spots, worn over black tights and very pointed black heeled lace-up boots. Wore red lipstick - not the classical 'student' stereotype. Very friendly and willing to talk. Having sexual relationship with her boyfriend, who she's been with for three years, and he was her first sexual relationship. Isn't worried about AIDS for that reason and because she knows him well and trusts him. Enjoys sex, does it a lot, doesn't take risks, neither in contraception or anything else. Is on the pill, but has used condoms when she forgot to take it once. Keeps referring to herself as being very 'old-fashioned' in her way of thinking about things, especially about sex in that she had a couple of boyfriends before this one but wouldn't have sex with them even though they wanted it because she was saving herself for the right man, and then he came along, and she knew. 16 then. Talked about oral sex as what enjoyed most.

Willing to be reinterviewed and took diary
